

Troop 339 Scoutmasters

A Scoutmaster may not have the patience of Job, or the outdoor skills of Daniel Boone. He may not be a leader like Dwight D. Eisenhower was or the politician. He probably can't sing like Frank Sinatra, nor will he ever be as rich as Donald Trump. He didn't campaign for the job, nor did he really want it. He took the job because someone had to, someone who believed in the future and wanted to help young men learn about character, integrity, and self reliance. He is someone who knows that doing a good turn daily is important. He tries to help others at all times even though he feels guilty because his family must share his attentions with 20 or so young men. He is someone to who "On my honor" is a solemn promise, meant to be kept. He won't be remembered in the history books like Daniel Boone and Ike, nor will he receive the adulation of millions of fans like Frank, or even the vast riches of Donald, but they weren't Scoutmasters.

Henry Kaufmann Jr.	1944-1948
A Paul Pohlner	1948-1949
Jean Laroque	1949-1952
Lynn Sipe	1952-1956
William McKenna	1956-1957
John Rife	1957-1958
A.R. Wiggins	1958-1965
D.S. Stroupe	1965-1966
J. Warren Slack	1966-1968
Ben Kaminkow	1968-1971
Jim McCoy	1971-1972
Louis Poulton	1973-1974
Art Zimmer	1974-1977
Dino O. Fieni	1977-1980
Jim McCoy	1980-1985
Charles M. Rollhouser	1985-1990
William Blume	1990-1994
Terry Rohn	1994-1995
Chuck Edmondson	1995-2000
Rick Doering	2000-2002
Walter Smith	2002-2007
Craig Lindsay	2007-present

Eagle Scouts

There is no greater honor in scouting than earning the rank of Eagle. It takes years of hard work and dedication to the ideals set forth in the Scout law and Promise. It brings great credit on the scout who has demonstrated the initiative, perseverance, and leadership required of this high recognition. In the national register of Eagle Scouts, one can find the names of famous entertainers, governors, astronauts, and presidents. There are names such as Stephen Spielberg, Neil Armstrong, and Gerald Ford. As with our national symbol, we take pride in the Eagle Scouts of Troop 339.

Robert Fish
Warren Gifford
Eric Pearson
Van J. Hanson
Mark Hoffman
Scott Poulton
Charles Landrum
Phil Thomas
William Martin
Andrew Buxton
Thomas Richardson
Mark Fieni
Gregory Hale
Jon Reinard
Eric Richardson
Douglas Miller
Gordon Theisz Jr.
Roger Blume
Mark Schmale
Keith Alcorn
Mathew Barnicle
John Royer
John Hessey
David Theisz
Tristan Edmondson
Matthew Gibson
Michael Dorsey
Matthew Ganci
Brian Walker
Jathan Biddlecomb
Gary Sever
William Underwood
Alex White
Nicholas Ganci
Kyle Doering
Derrick Weidner
Kris Gallagher
Biddlecomb
Chris Kolhafer
Phil Minnick

Robert Keating
Peter Ildefanzo
Chris Rossi
Kelcy Smith
Andrew Browning
John Michael DeStephano
Joseph Scalco Jr.